

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION LEAVES ACCOUNTANTS ANXIOUS ABOUT TAX CHANGES

Perquest, Inc., a national payroll company, is sponsoring a no-cost, one hour Webinar discussing tax implications as a result of Tuesday's election.

Oakland, CA. / November 6, 2008 – Perquest, Inc., a provider of web based payroll services, announced today an opportunity for accounting professionals to broaden their understanding of the tax implications as a result of the 2008 presidential and congressional election.

United States accountants are asking, “To what extent will the campaign promises be kept?” So the question remains, “If capital gains rates are going to rise, should investors sell assets in 2008 to take advantage of the relatively low current rate?”

During the fast-pace, one hour Continuing Professional Education (CPE) program, presenter and tax guru Michael Tucker, CPA will address these and other issues pertaining to how the elections could influence income taxes, capital gain rates, estate taxes and required minimum distributions.

The one-time CPE Webinar will be offered on Thursday, November 13, at 11 a.m. Pacific Time/2 p.m. Eastern Time. Course attendees are eligible to receive one Continuing Professional Education (CPE) credit after attendance is verified.

The FREE on-line CPE course is taught as a group lesson, however, space is limited and advanced registration is recommended. To register, visit www.perquest.com, click on the Register Now link. Registration is easy and can be completed in a matter of minutes with a confirmation and log-in details being sent directly to you via email.

Professor Michael J. Tucker, C.P.A. has an extensive background lecturing and authoring materials on tax analysis. He is a Professor of Accounting in the ‘Graduate Tax Program’ at Quinnipiac University and has co-hosted the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) Practice Report for many years. He also serves as tax director for the firm of T.M. Byxbee Company P.C. where he handles a wide variety of client transactions.
